“An old standby and deservedly so”, this “reliable” Great Barrington American-French “charmer” draws “repeat customers” for “bargain” “quick bites” in the bar or “solid” bistro “standards” at more expensive tabs in the dining room; the service is “warm”, the wine list is “moderately priced” and “great” live jazz on weekends gives the “homey” digs a “festive” feel, so no wonder it’s “still going strong.”
